CALLAHAN: But Sweeney was a one-time sperm donor. And in our case defendant Lattimer was an habitual sperm donor, who also happens to be harassing the parents in his quest for visitation.

WARNER: Well yeah, but without Lattimer's sperm, the child in question wouldn't exist.

CALLAHAN: Now you're thinking like a lawyer.

Musical score for the first system, featuring piano accompaniment and vocal lines for Elle and Callahan. The system includes measures 86 through 89. The piano part consists of chords in the left hand and a melodic line in the right hand. The vocal lines are in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#).

ELLE: Well, unless the defendant tried to contact every sexual encounter to find if a child resulted in those unions, he has no parental claim over this child whatsoever. Why now, why this sperm?

Musical score for the second system, featuring piano accompaniment and vocal lines for Elle. The system includes measures 90 through 93. The piano part continues with chords and a melodic line. The vocal line is in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp.

ELLE: And by Mr. Huntington's standard, all masturbatory emissions where the sperm was clearly not seeking an egg could be called reckless abandonment. (Attaca bar 100)

CALLAHAN: I see your point.

Musical score for the third system, featuring piano accompaniment and vocal lines for Callahan and Elle. The system includes measures 94 through 99. The piano part features a steady accompaniment. The vocal lines are in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp.

CALLAHAN: Ms. Woods, you just won your case.
